

POINTS on the OMAHA TRANSGENDER POLICY:

- This is all about pushing transgenderism into the public schools: Boys using girls' bathrooms, locker rooms, and showers, and boys playing on girls' sports teams -- against the will of the parents of Omaha. In other words, it adds the ridiculous terms "gender identity" and "gender expression" into the non-discrimination policy.
- The document says that the intent is "to comply with all state and federal laws prohibiting discrimination." That is not true. In Nebraska, there is no applicable state or federal LAW regarding "gender identity" or "gender expression" in the public schools. The Obama administration is crudely attempting to twist the Title IX regulation to fit that. But it has not been judged by the courts to be "law". Even the LGBT groups admit that.
- And more is coming. In every place this has been implemented, the LGBT has demanded and gotten: (1) Schools must be forced to use girls' names for boys, and vice versa, if requested, and parents not notified. (2) School records must be changed to say that a boy is a female, and vice versa, if requested. (3) Punishment and diversity training is meted out to anyone – student or faculty member – who calls a boy or girl by a name or pronoun that "unacceptable" to that child. (4) Children will be given literature and encouragement regarding hormone blockers and even body-mutilating sex-change surgery.
- You cannot make laws based on peoples' delusions. Transgenderism is a mental disorder. Even the American Psychiatric Association recognizes that. These people need mental health help.
- By putting in this policy, you are helping destroy the lives of those children. Dr. Paul McHugh, a renowned physician who ran the sex-change clinic at Johns Hopkins University hospital for many years, finally concluded that pandering to their sexual/gender issues only makes it worse for them – and more likely to be suicidal. "Changing" their sex never addresses their real problems. These people need actual healing, he concluded.
- All children already have a difficult time in today's society. Forcing them and their parents to accept cross-dressing people as "normal", especially in intimate settings such as showers, just to please a small, radical political group, is very selfish.
- It will invite lawsuits from parents. Girls that are traumatized by having boys in their showers. Children who are allowed to cross-dress against their parents' consent. Children given access to hormone blockers or other drugs, etc. for sex-change purposes. Students punished for "pronoun" violations. All of these will eventually invite lawsuits from parents.
- You are making people believe a lie. No one can change his or her sex. A male is always a male and a female is always a female. DNA cannot be changed.

Do NOT DO THIS to the children and parents of Omah!
